Dear Tim:

The reviews from the 1993 Governor's Conference on Recreation and Tourism are in and you and your team were a hit!

"Outstanding production!"
"Great way to end a conference!"
"So fun to laugh so hard!"
"Wonderful entertainment!"

These were just a few of the comments made about your show on the conference evaluation forms. Personally, I saw government agency people—who I have never seen crack a smile—wiping tears from their eyes because they were laughing so hard. And even though the crowd was thoroughly enjoying the show, I had an ideal seat where I could see both you and Pat McManus and I don't think anyone enjoyed the show more than he. The look of adoration on his face made me think that he was 12 years old again, riding that airplane along with you. That, my friend, has to be the compliment of all compliments about your incredible talent.

I called Julie Gallagher with the Sun Valley Center for the Arts and Humanities, P.O. Box 656, Sun Valley, 83353; Tel. 726-9491. She said to send her a packet. She also said to send packets to Sana Morrow, Ketchum Library, P.O. Box 2168, Ketchum, 83340; Tel. 726-3493 and Kevin McCauley, Director, Sun Valley Repertory Theatre, P.O. Box 1385, Sun Valley, 83353; Tel. 726-3706. I will also follow up and contact these people directly. Sun Valley is perfect for your show.

I promise, you and Penguin Productions won't be forgotten, and I hope you'll stay in touch. I am going before the board of the Society of American Travel Writers next month to put in a bid for the 1995 meeting. If the board is smart, they'll choose Idaho and you—you, Jean and hopefully Pat will be a very big part of that meeting.

My very best regards,
