To All Presenters

I am writing this letter on behalf of Tim Behrens, an actor whose work I have admired for a long time. I had the pleasure of working with Tim's father and his mother, both of them extremely talented, and I was thrilled when I first saw Tim's work in the McManus Comedies, and realized that the genes had happily helped produce another very fine talent. Tim's work, especially in comedy, is absolutely outstanding. When needed, he can push the envelope, and he can also be extremely subtle, still making a major impact.

Tim has toured extensively with his show, and been asked to return by many theatres after only playing there once or twice. I strongly urge you to book Tim and his show. He is loaded with talent, and is a definite crowd pleaser.

Most sincerely

Jack Lemmon
